

Hutchison's Bargain Store.

Many new things are appearing in our different departments this week.

Advance goods for the holidays are coming.

Our Dress Goods Department is having an unusual business. We have made extra efforts to meet this demand by variety, quality, styles and prices that are appreciated. Linings, trimmings, and buttons to match. Silk finish linings at 18, 20 and 25c per yard.

The linen department is showing some new styles in cream bleached and red table goods. We are making prices less than the market. Napkins, towels and towelings to help the housekeeper along. Thanksgiving is near and a look will prepare you for a purchase.

Woolens are still going up in price. We can hardly supply our trade at last year's prices in blankets, flannels and underwear. Early purchases from the mills and factories put us on the ground floor on prices.

Notion Department. Purses, 3, 5, 10 to 25c. Pocketbooks, 10, 15, 25 to 50c. Boston Bags, 25c to $1.48. Lenox hair curler, something new, 5c, worth 10c. Lightning sewing needles, 5c a paper, worth 10c. Beauty pins, 1, 2 and 5c. Slide combs, 3, 5 and 10c a pair.

A sample lot of jet, pearl and steel buckles for dresses and hats. Fine goods at half the usual prices. 5c to 25c.

Handkerchief, hand stitched border, 3c, 5c and 10c. Embroidered and lace ed 12, 15 to 25c.

Wool eldorado at 35, 40 and 50c per yard.

Our buyers have ransacked the markets for bargains and we present something new every week.

Fine jet cloak, dress and jacket buckles at 20 and 25c, regular 50c quality.

Our Clothing, Hat and Shoe departments keep up their interest in selling. Low prices and good quality the cause.

Queen Quality Shoes at $5.00 a pair is the best purchase in the city; best make, best styles and best quality rule.

McCall's Magazine only 30c a year, with a pattern free if called for at our store.

Merit must accompany low prices in presenting the McCall patterns to the community. We again illustrate to thousands of our customers that we are cheaper in patterns as in everything else. All patterns at 10 and 15 cents; none higher.

New Granite Ingrain Carpets at 25c a yard.

Perfumes and Cosmetics at away down prices; quality good.

Underwear for all people at all prices. A full stock again for your inspection.

The Laidon Health Club Books and foods. Look to what you eat and how prepared and you will have good health. Fresh and new.

Our Grocery Department is humming with busy trade; pure goods at low prices the inducement.

For sale, a printing press for hand or power, at a bargain.

WED AFTER TWELVE YEARS.

Cottage James McDonald Built for His Bride Is Now Decayed But He Is Happy.

James McDonald, a railroad engineer, fitted up a cottage in Washington avenue, Jefferson, a suburb of Chicago, 12 years ago, when he pledged his troth to Miss Kate Peterson, the daughter of a farmer in Norwood Park. The two were wedded the other day and the cottage, which, with its furnishings, is in a state of decay, is now occupied for the first time.

The story of McDonald's long engagement is one of romance and mental suffering. Miss Peterson had a sweetheart before McDonald met her, and when the betrothal became known the discarded suitor came to her and threatened to kill McDonald if they were married. The young woman was a Spiritualist, and she applied to a fortune teller, who told her that she could see some terrible calamity in her future. She took this to apply to the threats which had been made to her and, filled with a superstitious dread, she had the union postponed.

Twelve times since a day has been set for the tying of the knot, but on each occasion, through her fear for her fiancé's safety, it was postponed. McDonald in the meantime had kept the cottage in readiness for immediate occupancy. His friends had tried to induce him to rent it, but he refused, and he became known among his acquaintances as "Cottage Jim."

A few days ago Miss Peterson read an account in a Colorado paper of the death of her former lover, whose threats had hung over her all these years. A few days later she was married to McDonald.

The carpets in the cottage faded as the years rolled by and the furniture is now old fashioned, but McDonald is happy that he has kept the little home together.

NAVY RUNS SHORT OF FUNDS.

It is Probable That This Department Will Be Forced to Ask Congress for Deficiency Appropriation.

It is probable the navy department will be forced to ask for large deficiency appropriations during the next session of congress. Already, with the fiscal year long in limbo, the department's funds are woefully depleted, so much so that in some of the bureaus there is scant means for carrying on the regular work at navy yards and stations. Under the head of construction and repair, for which congress allotted $3,000,000, the bureau has already expended $1,442,674, leaving a balance to carry the bureau through the nine months remaining of $1,557,326. An inquiry is now being made to ascertain which vessels should be repaired first and which ships may without loss to the government await the deficiency appropriation. The present indications are that about $10,000,000 will be asked for to help on the various naval projects.

There is a misunderstanding in most quarters in regard to the action of Secretary Long in limiting the repairs work on ships of war. This does not mean a reduction of force nor a cutting down in the expenditures at yards and stations. The plan is to arrange the work so that with available funds the important projects shall be carried out first, leaving the yards and unimportant ships for the deficiency appropriations. The regular amount will be expended this year and there will be no attempt to economize so long as the funds last.

EVADING ARMY ORDER.

Chaplain Recently Ordered to the Philippines Are Trying in Every Way to Escape the Duty.

Chaplain recently ordered to the Philippines are still fighting for a chance to stay at home. The military authorities are greatly incensed over the situation, says the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, and one of the leading officials of the army said in an expression of opinion which seems to be shared generally: "We have detailed ten chaplains for duty at Manila, and I would be surprised if more than one or two of them ever reached that place. Nearly all of the chaplains are making strenuous efforts to stay in the United States, and one has gone so far as to be transferred to the retired list."

The application to this effect came from Chaplain Nave. He has been in the military service since 1882, and has been on duty but little. Chaplain G. G. Hume is another minister of the army who is seeking excuses to evade orders. A telegram came all the way from Spokane from the commandant of the post of Fort Spokane asking that the orders be suspended for important "domestic reasons." There was much interest expressed by officers in the order issued two weeks ago requiring ten chaplains to go to Manila. It was then predicted that many of them would seek to have their orders revoked. So far four of the ten have shown this desire.

The Harper Case.

There has been no change made in the Clerk's office of the date fixed for the trial of Miles Harper. It is not, however, unlikely that the trial will be put off until the term beginning January 8th. The sickness and death of Judge Crew's mother has interrupted the proceedings of this term in such a way that while no record has been made, it is likely that the trial will be postponed. —McConnellsville Herald.

Amusements.

those who have read the book will thoroughly enjoy the play, while spectators who have not read the book can follow and comprehend the substance of the story perfectly.

"Just Before Dawn."

Auditorium tonight.

"Just Before Dawn," given at the Grand last night, was patronized by a splendid audience which enjoyed the production from beginning to end. The play is set in a rugged plot, in which was blended love, hate and romance, and yet a touch of humor just in the proportion to captivate interest and enthrall to that point where all idea of time was forgotten and the closing scene was a rude awakening to the fact that the time had come to go home. The scenery was superb, and the setting in which occurs the thrilling effect of a mammoth boulder being blown by dynamite from its fastening of ages is magnificent.

Hugh Gibson, as Leuben Terney, was really fine, affording a phase of humor not often produced on the stage, while his daughter Nannie, Miss Olive West, combined love, self sacrifice and heroism, a fitting reciprocation of the regard in which she was held by her father. Taken all in all, the play was good, and none present regretted they were present even if they did have to go home through the rain. —Daily Sun, Springfield, O., Nov. 14.

Willie Collier in "Mr. Smooth."

The coming of Willie Collier in the leading role of a farce written by himself, entitled "Mr. Smooth," whose engagement is announced at the Auditorium Monday, Nov. 27, is a subject of theatrical interest.

"Mr. Smooth" is said to be howlingly funny; thoroughly American in its mode of fun and bubbling with that easy humor of ours which is above no one and below only the stupid and proud. Since Nat Goodwin has gone in for heavier things, Willie Collier is to be reckoned with only our best face actors, and a brilliant best he is. His gesticular powers of suggestion, and the comic serenity of his voice, the imperishable air of comic respectability that hangs over everything he does makes him one of the most unique figures in the modern theatre. Above all he knows the value of repression. You never see Willie Collier "mug" or "laugh" for that matter. He knows who should do the laughing. Seats on sale at Gates' news stand, Friday, Nov. 24.

"His Better Half."

"His Better Half," an original and decidedly novel concoction of farcial conglomeration, for which the master mind of purely uproarious comedy, Willie Edwin, is responsible, will be given an extremely important hearing at the Auditorium Wednesday night, Nov. 29, on which occasion additional interest will be given the presentation on account of the exceptionally noted array of talent engaged.

When taken into earnest consideration that such able artists as Bokle & Graham, May Donohue, Alta de Kerman, Ed Clark, Gerald Griffin, Andrew Leigh, Mead & Bennett and others of equal prominence are in the big cast, some idea may be inferred concerning the worthiness of the attraction.

"His Better Half" is esteemed above all as one of the most commendable bookings made for the present theatre season, and, as such, it will doubtless enjoy a conspicuous place in the happy memories of those who will avail themselves of its imitation.

"Under the Red Robe."

This famous play after its enormous success in London and New York will be produced here shortly. Its production will be marked with all the attention to scenery, costumes and stage furniture which characterized its run both in London and in New York. Mr. Julius Cahn has brought together a large company of prominent New York actors. Notably among them and heading the list are Mr. Paul Cazeneuve, a romantic actor of undoubted culture and great power, and Miss Amelia Gardner, a newcomer, but a lady of much experience in emotional roles. The play we are assured is as absorbing and fascinating as the novel. The dramatist, Mr. Edward Roe, has done his work with admirable discretion and good effect and
